Dear Mr. Caulfield:

Thank you for inviting CIA Director William J. Casey to speak at the Government Research Corporation's U.S. Foreign Investment Policy Forum on Monday, 6 May, at the Executive Office Building.

Mr. Casey has asked me to send his regrets. Due to his sensitive position, he does not normally address audiences which include foreign nationals.

We wish you a successful meeting.

Sincerely,

Mr. William J. Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Each year, since 1981, on behalf of the leadership of the foreign investment community, the Government Research Corporation has organized a three-day program in early May called the U.S. Foreign Investment Policy Forum. The Forum is a continuation of a program started by President Lyndon Johnson in 1967 to provide those controlling foreign debt and equity investments in the United States with insights into our public policy environment. This year the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Forum will be held in Washington, May 5-8, 1985.

Delegates to these programs (between 80 and 100) are senior executives from overseas banks, insurance companies, and investment houses who are responsible for pension funds and very substantial debt and equity investments in the United States (in the range of $250 billion). Over the past four years, this program has greatly enhanced the confidence of this group in our government officials and our national policies. (Lists of previous participants and past programs are attached for your review.)

Because of heightened concern among this group in U.S. foreign policy and national security matters, we would be honored if you could join our program this year to address those concerns. Typically we ask only for 10 to 15 minutes of remarks by our speakers, with greater opportunity for questions and answers and exchange of views with the Delegates.

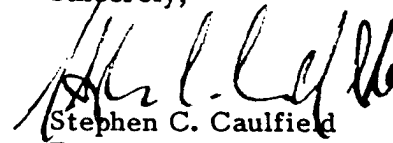

Although it is often difficult to make commitments this far in advance, if your schedule currently permits your participation on Monday morning, May 6, we would appreciate confirmation at your earliest convenience. If an alternative time during this three-day program would be preferable, please contact my associate, Leslie Shields, who would be happy to work with your office to facilitate scheduling and other arrangements. She may be reached at 223-0222.

We do hope you can join this distinguished group.

Sincerely,

Stephen C. Caulfield
President
